

Pricing Guide to Sales!

1

Laundry Products

these resell the best for me because everyone uses laundry products to do their clothes so I would price at 40% off to maximize profits.

2

Paper Products

these also resell well, depending on the size of family, people go through these quick and like to really stock up. 30-40% off

3

Hair Care

sell in sets of Shampoo/Conditioner. Price at 50-60% off retail. We get good deals on these and they are the 3rd easiest product to sell.

4

Beauty Products

Makeup doesn't resell the best for me, products that are harder to resell, sell for cheaper. I would recommend 60% off retail. Sell in bundles.

5

Toothpaste

I sell for $1-$2 per tube. Even the $8 pro series toothpaste at Walmart. Doesn't sell super well but a good additional item to throw in your bundles to help lower your stockpile on it and increase your sale.

Pricing Guide to Sales!

6

Lotion/ Hand Soap

Not the best seller for me. Not everyone buys lotions and its not a necessity to have. 60% off

7

Bodywash

Bodywash sells pretty well for me. Especially the brands like Dove, Aveeno etc. I sell for 50% off Walmart prices.

8

Feminine Care

Hit or miss for me. If the buyer wants them they usually buy a lot, but not everyone needs feminine care so less people buy it from me. 50-70% off Walmart

9

Razors

Razors are so expensive now, but doesnt resell for me super well. I price at 50-60% off retail pricing.

*

Extra Tip!

If anyone buys in bulk (buys 20 toothpastes at a time) then ill reduce the price. So because we get toothpaste for free 99% of the time, I'll reduce it to $1 each. Keep this in mind for all products. Have an option, for ex. Hair care, 1 set $4 or 3 sets $10 so they save more to buy more. It increases your sale and reduces your stockpile.